Dear Mr. Mackal,

Please understand the brevity of this brief response to your letter of 2/18. I've been working until 5 a.m. to get up and keep up with my mail and other chores. My wife has a severe ankle sprain that will have her restricted to almost no movement for a month, so I'm running the house, caring for her, handling the shipments, etc., in addition. Little time.

With the broad doctrine of your tehory, I have no dispute. With the specification, I do. Some of it is obvious, does fir. Some does not.

It gets a little into what I plan for TIGER TO RIDE, but only in the basic concpet, and there only in part.

As of now, I wish I were back on that book. It is broader and I think of greater significance. I do so wish it were done and out now!

Many thanks. Your ideas are interesting, and if you have any more, I'd welcome them.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
